APPENDIX: EDITOR'S NOTES

During the past two revision cycles, the Charter and Bylaws Committee was not able to address certain areas satisfactorily, and strongly recommend that the next administration's Charter and Bylaw team consider the following issues. This list also includes areas for review referred by the in-person meeting of the YDG Executive Committee.

I. Items from 2022 Convention

- A. Added guidelines for hybrid conventions
- B. Lowered quorum for convention
- C. Extended deadline for potential YDG candidates
- D. Added language surrounding dormant caucuses
- E. Added language regarding the transfer of power after presidential resignation; allow a special election to be called.

II. Older items

- A. Cleaning up the credentialing process at Convention - recommended to work in conjunction with prior
- B. Whether to make EX-COM call attendance mandatory for YDG chapters
- C. Further clarifying the YDA delegation selection process, and the organization's policy on the use of official YDG funds to subsidize the delegation
- D. Reviewing the Committee and Caucus structure to address mission overlap, low participation, and an absence of a committee description for the Rules and Resolutions committees.
- E. The addition of an appendix outlining all Charter and Bylaw-mandated deadlines, and an outline of state Convention processes with a timeline to assist with compliance
- F. Conduct a review of DPG and YDA bylaws to make sure that terminology is being consistently used across the documents.
- G. Working to ensure the Judicial Council is independent from the rest of the organization. One suggestion is to have Regional Directors call for Judicial Council candidates from within their regions, each chapter in the region to vote on their representative for the Council.
- H. Further follow ups on the mandatory reporter training: we want a training that goes beyond the minimum needed to cover against legal liability. Also, add cross-references to the chartering and credentialing requirements for chapters that refers to the mandatory reporter training requirements.
- I. Review and consider revising the deadlines and dates defined for fiscal years, audits, budget deadlines, and executive committee meetings. The goal would be to streamline this process so that more of the dates involved match up.
- J. Annual dues from the chapters to the YDG as part of the charter renewal process.
